BOB SIMMS — He Blocks and Tackles, Too!

When rating an end, experts usually ask first, "How well can he catch a pass?" It is only after this point is determined, and with far less interest, that inquiries are made about blocking and tackling.

Bob Simms, Rutgers 1959 captain, has displayed to the joy of his coaches and Rutgers fans, and the discomfort of the opposition, that he has no peer in the pass-catching department.

Even more important in the Rutgers scheme of attack and defense, however, is Bob's ability to block and defend. Here, too, Mr. Robert Alderson Simms, 6-2½, 212 pounds of contact-loving West Virginia has no peer.

Just listen to Coach John Stiegman: "Bob is the best end in the country. He can do everything, and do it well."

When Bill Austin was racing to All-American honors last fall, Bob was responsible for many of the key blocks. Often when Austin would zip into the clear, running alongside, ready to pick off any pursuer, would be Simms. His downfield blocks were thorough and vicious.

On defense, Bob is a terror. His tackling is sure, his judgment seldom wrong and his pressure on passers has helped the Scarlet intercept 27 passes in the past two seasons.

The second of three brothers Rutgers has been fortunate enough to enroll, Bob has a chance to set all Rutgers pass-catching records. He already has three: 33 passes caught in one season (1958); nine touchdown passes caught in one year ('58); highest scoring end in history (64 points, '58). In sight are Russ Sandblom's career total of 55 passes caught (Bob has 45 in two years); Sandblom's yardage mark of 1,142 (Bob has 648); and the 11 touchdown passes caught during their careers by Sandblom and Bucky Hatchett (Simms has 10).

In addition to Stiegman and end coach Matt Bolger, Simms' biggest booster is Austin, himself. Bill, who played in two post-season all-star games last fall, said:

"I didn't play with or against an end who can compare to Simms."

The professionals, too, know of Bob's all-around ability. Every pro club has contacted him. Bob is "interested" in the professional game, but hopes he can combine ball-playing and law school.

Rutgers top passers—Austin and Bruce Webster—have been graduated. But if the Scarlet can find someone to put the ball within his reach, Simms could be Rutgers second consecutive All-American.

Rutgers, The State University

Rutgers, the State University, began as a struggling colonial college before the Revolution. Founded in 1766 by Dutch pioneers, Rutgers was originally called Queens College under a charter from King George III of England. The young college's existence was threatened by the Revolution, but growth followed that conflict, just as unprecedented expansion was experienced after the last World War.

Rutgers was given its present name in 1825, after generous gifts had been received from Colonel Henry Rutgers, a New York philanthropist. Forty years later it was designated the Land Grant College of New Jersey, the liberal arts course was enlarged, and courses leading to bachelor degrees in agriculture and engineering were added.

In 1902 a ceramics department was established, New Jersey College for Women with its own New Brunswick campus, was founded in 1918; the School of Education added in 1923; and in 1925 the Extension Division for non-degree education and the School of Journalism were established. The College of Pharmacy was added in 1927, University College, degree-granting evening division, was established in 1934, and Newark University was merged with Rutgers in 1946. In 1945, the State Legislature brought all divisions of Rutgers within the designation of the State University of New Jersey. In 1950, an act of the State Legislature incorporated the College of South Jersey in Camden, including a two-year liberal arts college and a law school, into the State University as the Rutgers College of South Jersey. The liberal arts college has since expanded to a four-year curriculum. In April, 1955, N.J.C. was renamed Douglass College. In 1956, under a reorganization program, the University was officially designated, Rutgers, The State University, and came under the management of an 11-man Board of Governors.

RUTGERS M.A.C. CHAMPS

With a 4-0 record, Rutgers last year won the Middle Atlantic Conference championship in the University Division—the first year formal play was conducted in the new league. The Scarlet in 1959 plays the same four M.A.C. teams it met last year—Bucknell, Lehigh, Lafayette and Delaware. A minimum of four games must be played to qualify for the title.

Here's how the league finished last year:

Rutgers	4-0-0	Delaware	2-3-0
Lafayette	5-1-1	Muhlenberg	1-2-0
Gettysburg	3-1-1	Bucknell	1-5-0
Lehigh	2-1-2	Temple	0-5-0

The Rutgers Coaching Staff

John R. Stiegman, Head Coach

JOHAN R. STIEGMAN, appointed head coach in February, 1956, is a graduate of Williams College. Now in his first head coaching position, he was an aide to the late Charley Caldwell at Princeton from 1946 to 1955.

Stiegman attended Riverside High School in his native Buffalo, N. Y., and entered Williams after his graduation. In addition to being an outstanding tackle, he was a distance swimmer and played hockey and lacrosse.

He was graduated from Williams in 1944 and served two years in the Navy, seeing action in the Normandy invasion and later in the Pacific Theater before joining Caldwell at Princeton in 1946. At first he was on the freshman coaching staff, moving to the varsity as line coach in 1949. In the days of two-platoon football, he was the defensive specialist.

At Princeton he coached hockey and 150-pound crew in addition to football. He is Rutgers' 14th football coach since 1900.

Stiegman is married to the former Elizabeth Tindall of Princeton. The couple has two children, Holly, 10, and Elthea, 8. They now live in Highland Park. Stiegman's three-year record at Rutgers is 16-12.

Matthew J. Bolger, Jr., End Coach

ANATIVE OF Newark, Matthew J. Bolger is a graduate of Cornell University. After completing St. Benedict's Prep in Newark where he earned all-state mention in 1940, he entered Notre Dame. He served in the Marine Air Corps during 1942-45, seeing Pacific duty on an aircraft carrier. Bolger entered Cornell after leaving the service, graduating in 1948. He began his coaching career the next year as St. Benedict's line coach. In 1950 he moved to Upsala College and in 1951 joined the Brown University staff as end coach. Bolger came to Rutgers in March, 1956. Bolger now lives in Edison Township.

Joseph J. Stanczyk, Backfield Coach

BACKFIELD COACH at Columbia under Lou Little from 1947 to 1956, Joe Stanczyk joined the Rutgers staff in 1957 when Frank Burns resigned to take a high school coaching post. A Columbia graduate, he is a Navy veteran and coached six years at Admiral Farragut Academy, where his teams lost only three games in six years. In addition to football, he coached basketball and track at Farragut. The holder of a Master's Degree from Columbia Teachers College, Stanczyk and his wife, Lois, live in Glen Rock.

Robert S. McCoy, Line Coach

FORMER SINGLE wing center at Penn State, Bob McCoy is serving his fourth year on a college coaching staff. He coached at three Pennsylvania high schools during 1951-1956, serving two years at each. Most recently the Lock Haven, Pa., native was at Sunbury High. Earlier he coached at Northumberland and Ford City. An honorable mention All-American performer, McCoy played under Bob Higgins at Penn State during 1944-46. He once earned Associated Press "Lineman of the Week" honors. McCoy now lives in Highland Park.

Warren E. Harris, Freshman Coach

BEFORE JOINING Rutgers staff in March, 1956, Warren Harris was head coach at Liberty High School in Bethlehem, Pa., for two years. A graduate of Missouri Valley College, the Dexter, Iowa, native was second team halfback on the Little All-American squad in 1942. He served 32 months in the Navy after his 1943 graduation from Missouri Valley, participating in the Normandy invasion. He played two seasons with the Bethlehem Bulldogs (1946-47) after his discharge, returning to his alma mater as backfield coach and later moving to Edwardsville (Ill.) High as football and track coach. He also coaches Rutgers Varsity Basketball team.

The Forecast—1959

Although problems at center and end cloud the picture somewhat, Rutgers may have enough manpower in 1959 to approach its fine 8-1 mark of last fall. That's the feeling of Coach John Stiegman as he views his fourth Rutgers season knowing All-American Bill Austin is no longer on call.

There are 26 lettermen—including 12 regulars—available. Five of these are ends, but only one—Capt. Bob Simms—is a proven first stringer. Thus, Stiegman must find a second starter and depth.

The situation at center is deceptive, in that three lettermen are listed. Here again, only one has established himself—Armand Glassman, who is moving up from the second team. But Larry Makarevich, a converted quarterback, and Les Senft, a reserve last year, have much to learn before they can be relied upon to spell Glassman.

Elsewhere, the forecast is bright. Rutgers may have one of the East's biggest and most mobile lines, one averaging 215 or more. Some shifts may be made once camp begins to put the seven best forwards on the field at once.

In the backfield, where Austin and five others departed, the biggest struggle will be at tailback, where Bill Wolff will have to beat off the challenge of senior Ron Schmitt and four promising sophomores.

Wingback Arny Byrd is the leading returning back, having both breakaway potential and defensive skill, especially against enemy passes. Veterans Bill McGoe and Bill Tully at fullback will be pressed by a 205-pound pile-driving sophomore—Steve Simms. Jim Rogers moves to blocking back from fullback.

The sophomore contingent is not without promise, but can be brought along slowly thanks to the large crew of veterans. In addition to Steve Simms, only quarterback Dick Lawrence, tackle Sal Sedita and one of the tailbacks is expected to represent the sophomore class in the early games.

Here's the pre-season depth chart:

LE	Bob Simms	Darlington	Benke	*Engle
LT	Pahls	*Sedita	DiLemma	*Kocaj
LG	Gustin	Peacock	*Harrison
C	Glassman	Makarevich	Senft	Vecchio
RG	Clark	Horner	Dell Angela	Skwara
RT	Pulley	Blanchfield	Pregnotato	Mabius
RE	Martinak	Costin	Kiley	*Cory
QB	Rogers	Lugossy	*Lawrence	Brown
LH	Wolff	Schmitt	*Webb, *Thompson	*Mudie *Speranza
RH	Byrd	Pencek	Mullert	Acanfora
FB	McGoe	Tully	Steve Simms	*Kowalski

Lettermen in bold face; *sophomores.

Bob Simms ranks as one of the nation's best ends. Jud Pahls, Bill Pulley, Bob Clark, Paul Gustin, Jim Horner and Bob Blanchfield are big, tough experienced linemen.

"Of course we have to get moving early again, since we meet Princeton in the first game," Stiegman says. "If we do get a good start, there's no telling how far we can go."

Scarlet Players

The 1959 Captain

ROBERT SIMMS, senior end. Coach John Stiegman minces no words in claiming Simms is "the best end in the country." Every Rutgers pass-catching record is within his reach. The Charleston, W.Va., native has caught 45 passes, needs 10 to tie Russ Sandblom's mark (1950-52). He's caught 10 TD passes, more than anyone else. And his yardage (648) is within hail of Sandblom's mark, too. A vicious defender and an avid downfield blocker, Simms is an all-around performer who has caught the eye of many professional scouts. He was 10th in scoring in nation with 64 points in '58. Political Science major.

Ends

PAUL BENKE, junior. A former quarterback at Belvidere High, Paul joined the squad late last year and was shifted to end. The president of his class, Paul played with the jayvees last season but may earn a reserve role this fall. Biological Sciences major.

DONALD CORY, sophomore. A promising member of last year's frosh eleven, Cory could help solve the depth problem at end. Very strong (he wrestles in the winter) Don played mostly defense at Hackettstown High. Mechanized Agriculture major.

DELMAS COSTIN, junior. Del played fullback as a freshman and early last season, but was shifted to end. Blessed with good speed, he's a determined tackler and an excellent blocker. A Trenton High graduate, he has a good chance to play regularly despite comparative lack of size (175). Also competes in track. Food Technology major.

LEE CURLEY, sophomore. A regular with the last year's frosh eleven, Lee may break into the varsity reserve picture. Earned South Jersey honors in football, basketball and baseball at Bridgeton High. Physical education major.

GEORGE DARLINGTON, junior. A regular with the '57 frosh, Darlington lettered in a reserve role last fall. Is expected to provide support for Simms at left end. A resident of Charleston, W. Va., he plays lacrosse in the spring. Physical Education major.

MARVIN ENGLE, sophomore. A regular on last year's frosh eleven, Engle was slowed by a leg injury. He twice was an all-league selection at Kingston, N. Y., High School. Has opportunity to win at least a substitute's job. Also competes in track. Mechanical Engineering major.

JOHN KEEFE, sophomore. An aggressive performer, Keefe was a reserve with the '58 frosh eleven. He was handicapped, however, by slow recovery from leg injury suffered at St. Peter's High School. Biological Sciences major.

ALFRED KILEY, senior. Al has been a valuable member of the Scarlet eleven the past two falls solely on the basis of punting. He's averaged 38.8 yards in 10 kicks. The Yonkers, N. Y., native has developed into capable end, too, although lacking speed. Also competes in lacrosse. Physical Education major.

JOSEPH MARTINAK, junior. If Joe can regain the form he exhibited with frosh eleven in '57, he may be starting right end. Big and strong, he was disappointing in '58 after an injury delayed his early conditioning. Was an all-conference end at Union-Endicott (N. Y.) High. Biological Sciences major.

ROBERT SIMMS, senior. (See "The Captain," start of section.)

Tackles

ROBERT BLANCHFIELD, junior. One of the most pleasant surprises of 1958, Bob came from nowhere to share right tackle job. Now, a mere 6-5, 225 pounds, he's gunning for a first-string role and could push Bill Pulley elsewhere on the line. Played at Butler High. Also competes in basketball. Sociology major.

PATRICK DILEMMA, junior. A fullback on the '57 frosh squad, Pat was ineligible last fall but is returning as a tackle. Could well land reserve job. Has fair straight-ahead speed. Also plays baseball. Majoring in Physical Education.

THOMAS KOCAJ, sophomore. A regular end with the '58 frosh, Tom has been shifted to tackle. He played both end and center at LaSalle High in Niagara Falls, N. Y. Also played frosh baseball. Majoring in Economics.

WILLIAM LIBBY, sophomore. A shift to tackle is dictated for Libby this fall after a freshman season at center. Earned honors at center at Kenmore, N. Y., High School. Also played freshman lacrosse. Majoring in Economics.

LEONARD MABIUS, junior. After being overweight his frosh year, Mabius trimmed down last fall and saw occasional service in a reserve role. Played for Harrisburg (Pa.) Catholic before coming to Rutgers. Electrical Engineering major.

JUSTIN "JUD" PAHLS, junior. Big Jud was the varsity left tackle from his first day in camp. A well-coordinated 230-pounder with better than average speed, he is pegged as one of the east's better tackles. Defense currently is forte, but his blocking is improving. Earned a slew of honors at Mahanoy City High (Pa.). Industrial Engineering major.

JOHN PREGNOLATO, junior. John picked up badly-needed experience last fall and may be ready to play this year. He was a regular frosh guard in '57, shifted to tackle last year. Played at Irvington High School. Mechanical Engineering major.

WILLIAM PULLEY, senior. A thoroughly competent blocker, Pulley is so well versed in single wing line play he may be able to move to another position, if necessary, or remain as the regular right tackle. The Bethlehem (Pa.) High graduate has good speed, does some kicking off. Also competes in track. Industrial Engineering major.

SALVATORE SEDITA, sophomore. A regular guard with the '58 freshmen, Sal moves over to tackle where he'll back up Pahls. Played tackle, end and guard at Kenmore (N. Y.) High School. Also participated in frosh lacrosse. Industrial Engineering major.

HERBERT THOMS, senior. Thomas has neither the speed nor size to play regularly, but he's been a valuable reserve the past two years. Attended Middletown High, played for ex-Rutgers great, Arnie Truex. He is married and majors in History.

Guards

ROBERT CLARK, senior. Strong, fast and aggressive, Clark is an outstanding guard, perhaps the tallest around (6-4). He was a freshman end and played tackle as a sophomore. He could move to another line post, if necessary. The Millville High graduate plays lacrosse in the spring. Biological Sciences major.

SILVIO DELL ANGELA, senior. A hard worker, Sil should be ready to play more regularly this fall than he has in the past. He's stronger on defense, but can go both ways. Highland Park High graduate. City Planning major.

PAUL GUSTIN, senior. The squad's senior member (24), Paul is the ranking left guard. A two-year letterman, he is married, has one boy. Worked two years after graduating from Harrisburg (Pa.) Catholic before deciding to seek a degree. Majoring in Mechanical Engineering.

ROBERT HARRISON, sophomore. Although only 175 pounds, Harrison is a highly-rated prospect. His exceptional speed and quick reactions give him an edge over bigger opponents. Was frosh regular. Graduate of Connellsville (Pa.) Joint High. Business major.

JAMES HORNER, junior. Amazingly fast for a 5-11, 230-pounder, Jim lettered last fall, may press for starting honors. A heavyweight wrestler in the winter, he has fast reactions. Will battle Clark for right guard. Paulsboro High graduate. Physical Education major.

RICHARD PEACOCK, junior. Unsung last fall, Dick came through to win a letter and probably will be called on for sub duty this year. Good blocker, tough on defense, he's a step too slow to excel. Pitman High School graduate. Electrical Engineering major.

RONALD SIMONETTI, sophomore. A substitute guard on the 1958 frosh squad, Ron also participated in freshman lacrosse, Prepped at Carle Place High (Long Island.) Business administration major.

JOSEPH SKWARA, senior. Out two years with a knee injury suffered in Penn scrimmage of '57, Joe is trying a comeback. At time of injury, he was ranked one-two at right guard. Former guard-fullback at Burlington High. Agriculture major.

Centers

ARMAND GLASSMAN, senior. After backing up Don Mozzochi all last fall, Glassman is ready for starting duty. An excellent offensive pivotman, he lacks only speed to become an outstanding two-way performer. Learned his football at Paterson Central High. Majoring in Biological Sciences.

JOSEPH GRECKY, junior. Joe has played a reserve role the past two seasons, with the freshmen and varsity. Was defenseman on varsity lacrosse team last spring. Attended Minersville (Pa.) High, majoring in geology.

LARRY MAKAREVICH, junior. A former guard at Hackettstown High School, Larry has been a blocking back the past two seasons but has been shifted to center. He's the likely defensive replacement for Glassman, having fine line-backing potential. History major.

LESTER SENFT, junior. The regular frosh center two years ago, Les lettered last fall although he had little chance to play regularly. A fine competitor and hustler, he rowed in 1958 and played lacrosse last spring. A Camden High graduate, he's majoring in Business Administration.

ROBERT VECCHIO, sophomore. The leading freshman center a year ago, Bob is an alumnus of Port Jervis (N. Y.) High where he earned conference honors. Member of frosh lacrosse team last spring. Education major.

Wingbacks

GERRY ACANFORA, junior. The junior varsity wingback a year ago, Gerry faces virtually the same competition for a regular job he did last year. A good competitor with fair speed, he could move to another position. Played at Mahanoy City (Pa.) High. Physical Education major.

ARNOLD BYRD, junior. After a slow start, Army fought his way to a starting role and wound up the second leading rusher and pass defender last fall. The outstanding breakaway threat, he ranks as the leading back on the squad. Hit .300 for the baseball team last spring. Graduate of Camden High. Majoring in Psychology.

PIERCE FRAUENHEIM, sophomore. A strong runner, Pierce started for the frosh last fall and also displayed considerable ability on the basketball court. With Anstatt, he must compete with three returning lettermen for a job. Aspinwall High (Pittsburgh, Pa.) graduate. Education major.

PAUL MULLERT, senior. A speed merchant, Paul jumped to varsity ball last fall after playing with the 150s in 1957. With year's single wing experience, he could press Byrd and Pencek. Leading sprinter on the track team. Graduate of Wayne High. Business Administration major.

RICHARD PENCEK, senior. Dick was the chief sub for Byrd last year, scoring two touchdowns during the year. Has good speed, earned third team All-American honors as lacrosse defenseman last spring. Was three-sport athlete at Port Jervis (N. Y.) High. Education major.

Quarterbacks

LARRY BROWN, junior. Larry started as a quarterback but went to fullback last fall. He's returning to the blocking back post this year and may be a defensive specialist for Stiegman. He's an excellent linebacker with good reactions. Graduate of N. Miami (Fla.) High. Education major.

RICHARD LAWRENCE, sophomore. Dick is one of the few sophomores rated a strong chance to play regularly. He's big and fast, has good football sense, line-backs well. Former T-quarterback at Phillipsburg High. Arm injury slowed him last fall on frosh. Physical Education major.

FRANK LUGOSSY, junior. A little man with a lust for contact, Frank blocks and defends well, but needs experience running team. Played for Hamilton High in Trenton, was regular defenseman for lacrosse team last spring. Physical Education major.

JAMES ROGERS, senior. The much-traveled Mr. Rogers returns to his freshman position, quarterback, ranked as the pre-season favorite to start. He can block, tackle and defend with the best, needs to readjust to running the team. Played center in '57, fullback last year. Been hampered by injuries. Shaw High (Cleveland, O.) graduate. Education major.

Fullbacks

JOSEPH KOWALSKI, sophomore. In a battle on the freshmen with Simms and Kasprisin, Joe had to settle for third place, but he's a definite prospect. Earned conference honors at Johnsonburg (Pa.) Joint High. Played lacrosse last spring, majoring in Engineering.

WILLIAM MCGOEY, senior. A broken ankle kept Bill out of action most of '58, and he's labeled the man to beat this year. A strong runner and adequate defender, he came to fore in '57 when top three fullbacks were hurt. Graduate of Kingston (Pa.) High. Business administration major.

STEVE SIMMS, sophomore. The third Simms brother to play for Rutgers, Steve could be the number one fullback by mid-season. Fast despite his 205 pounds, he's a good blocker but must work on defense. Earned All-South honors at Charleston (W. Va.) High. Was leading ball-carrier for freshmen last fall. Also is standout weight-thrower in track. Political Science major.

WILLIAM TULLY, junior. Bill compiled a fine 4.9 rushing average last fall and scored two TD's but was hot and cold. A bruising runner, he must work on defense to play regularly. Played lacrosse in the spring. Graduate of Bloomfield High. Education major.

Rutgers Athletic Administration

REGARDED as one of the best known figures associated with Scarlet athletics, "Rocky" reached a high point in his years of service and devotion to Rutgers in 1954 when he was appointed Director of Athletics, succeeding the late George E. Little, who left the post to give full time to administrative duties as Executive Secretary of the National Football Hall of Fame.

Rockefeller entered Rutgers as an undergraduate in 1912. He starred in football, basketball, and track during his four college years. He became associated with the College of Agriculture immediately after his graduation but left for service with the Army overseas during World War I. After the war, he went into industry for several years, then returned to Rutgers in 1924 as graduate manager of athletics. He was named head football coach in 1927 and in four years his teams won 19 and lost 16 games. In 1930, he resigned as coach in favor of administrative duties.

In 1932, he became head coach of 150-pound football. His lightweight teams were undefeated in 18 games and won Eastern Intercollegiate championships in 1933, 1934, and 1935. He returned again to administration in 1937 but assisted with the varsity ends when Harvey Harman came on the scene in 1938. "Rocky" again took over the varsity reins during World War II.

Albert W. Twitchell, Assistant to the Director
1935 graduate of Rutgers, Al Twitchell was an outstanding athlete during his undergraduate days, earning All-American honors in both football and lacrosse. After coaching at Sewanhaka High School in Long Island and Hofstra College, he returned to Rutgers in 1937 as assistant coach in lacrosse and 150-pound football. In 1950, he became head lacrosse coach, and served during 1948-51 as varsity line coach. In 1952, he relinquished his football chores to become assistant to the director of athletics. In the past nine seasons, his lacrosse teams have won 79 while losing only 27 and tying one.

Tailbacks

SAMUEL MUDIE, sophomore. Sam displayed strong defensive and punting ability with last year's freshmen, has potential as runner and passer. Biggest tailback Stiegman has ever had (6-3, 195). Was three-sport star at Bensalem (Pa.) High, played frosh basketball here. Mechanical Engineering major.

RONALD SCHMITT, senior. After getting in the best shape of his career last fall, Ron suffered a knee injury which kept him out most of the year. But the 195-pound speedster has definite running potential and ranks behind Wolff in the battle to replace Austin. Dumont High graduate. Physical Education major.

WILLIAM SPERANZA, sophomore. The best passer among the soph tailbacks, Bill was ill prior to last season and was late getting started. Could well fill role similar to Bruce Webster's past several years. Regular catcher on frosh baseball team. Graduate of Philipsburg-Osceola High (Pa.). Physical Education major.

JOSEPH THOMPSON, sophomore. Another promising candidate, Joe has settled down after an erratic frosh season and may press for a job. Is outstanding baseball player. Earned honors at Ridgewood High. Majoring in physical education.

RICHARD WEBB, sophomore. The number one frosh tailback before getting hurt last season, Dick fits the tailback pattern of Rutgers single wing best among new candidates. Played position three years at Nichols School in Buffalo. Has good speed, also played lacrosse. Dick is married, majors in History.

WILLIAM WOLFF, senior. After two years as a reserve, Bill is ready to take over at tailback. He's a strong runner, accurate and dependable as a punter and can pass. Has thrown 3 TD passes in two seasons. Regular pitcher on baseball team. Graduate of Highland Park High. Majoring in Civil Engineering.

PRINCETON PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 21; Lettermen Lost: 14

The same problem which troubled Princeton in 1958—uncertainty in the interior line—is likely to hinder the Tiger again. But strength at center, end and in the backfield is almost certain to offset that weakness and give Princeton another winning season.

Coach Dick Colman is hoping tailback Dan Sachs and two others who were out with injuries in 1958—Frank Schultz, tackle, and Jim Stansbury, end, can stay healthy. There's ample offensive ability available in the likes of Mike Ippolito, Mike Iseman, Jack Sullivan, Hugh Scott and Don Kornrumpf. Capt. Frank Szvetcz will anchor the line at center.

LAST YEAR'S GAME: Rutgers 28, Princeton 0

Rutgers capitalized on two pass interceptions to take a 14-0 first-half lead, then completely dominated play in the last two periods to defeat Princeton for the first time in 10 games and score its first shutout over the Tigers in history.

Bill Austin gave a sample of his All-American talents, scoring two of the touchdowns and passing to end Bob Simms for the other two. Princeton was unable to penetrate the Scarlet's 10-yard line and didn't get past the 25 until the Rutgers subs took over early in the fourth quarter.

CONNECTICUT PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 17; Lettermen Lost: 8

With 17 of 25 lettermen returning from its 1958 team, UConn is expecting another successful season. The Huskies have returning the top three runners, the top two passers and the top three receivers, which means their winged-T offense should be in high gear again.

In quarterback Harry Drivas, UConn has an outstanding passer and field general. Fullback and center are the only positions where graduation has taken away a starter. Bob Horan and Bill Minnerly are the leading runners and Barry O'Connell, Joe Llodra and Tom Conroy the top linemen.

LAST GAME: (1957) Rutgers 14, Connecticut 7

Neither side could move consistently, but Rutgers won on two long scoring plays. Guard Ron Sabo intercepted a pass by Livieri at 12:10 of the second quarter and returned it 68 yards for Rutgers' first score. Then, at 2:38 of the third quarter, Austin sped 87 yards on an end run for a 14-0 lead (after Seaman's conversion).

Connecticut had only one first down in the third period and didn't pass midfield in the second half until the last two minutes of the fourth quarter. The UConns finally scored at 14:55 on a D'Avolio to Anastasio pass. Rutgers played without Oberlander and Pfeiffer, its two best linemen.

COLGATE PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 15; Lettermen Lost: 9

Alva Kelley, in his first season at Colgate, finds the Red Raiders well stocked from tackle-to-tackle but the end and halfback positions lack depth and experience, which clouds the offensive picture.

However, high hopes are held out for help from the sophomores, especially at halfback. Kelley intends to install the "flanker-T" which he used with great success at Brown.

LAST YEAR'S GAME: Rutgers 21, Colgate 7

Rutgers jumped to a 14-0 first quarter lead over Colgate then had to fight a determined bid by the home-coming-inspired Red Raiders. Austin passed to Simms on a 31-yard scoring play, then carried 14 yards, himself, for the first quarter scores. Colgate bounced back early in the second quarter, with Harding sneaking over from the one.

The Scarlet halted a Colgate third-quarter drive on its own 27, then began a 73-yard march for the clinching score at 2:16 of the fourth period. Austin carried on 12 consecutive plays, most of them off-tackle smashes, for the third TD.

BUCKNELL PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 16; Lettermen Lost: 5

Bucknell can't help but be better than the 1958 team that won but one of nine games. In fact, if the Bisons can get past the first half of this year's schedule without incurring any extraordinary damages, Bob Odell's sophomore studded eleven may surprise most observers by turning in a winning record, which would be quite a rebound in one year's time.

Paced by Paul Terhes, who won the M.A.C. passing and total offense titles as a sophomore, the Bisons will have more depth than last year's squad. Bucknell will stick to the belly series that kept them in the thick of most 1958 games until the fourth quarter, but will do a great deal more passing. Strongest spots are quarterback and guard, thinnest is end. Most help from the sophs is at halfback.

LAST YEAR'S GAME: Rutgers 57, Bucknell 12

It was "no contest" after the first quarter with Rutgers taking a 16-0 lead. Bucknell used short passes effectively, picking up 251 yards in the air, but couldn't match the 385 yards Rutgers gained on the ground. Austin passed seven yards to Simms for the first score. Arny Byrd carried for eight yards and the second TD. Austin made it 22-0 at halftime on a 12-yard second period sprint.

Austin passed four yards to Crosby for the fourth score, then ran 32 yards for another after Terhes connected with Moncilovitch for Bucknell's initial points. Tully opened the fourth period scoring for Rutgers, blasting over from the two, after which Mullert carried over on a reverse from six yards out. Duerksen ran four yards for Bucknell's second TD, then Brown carried three yards for Rutgers final tally.

LEHIGH PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 12; Lettermen Lost: 11

An unusual 3-3-3 record marked Lehigh's rebuilding in 1958 and Coach Leckonby is expecting a winning 1959 record. To make it, however, the Engineers will have to overcome inexperience in the line. The backfield lists seven lettermen among the first eight, but there are only five letter winners on the entire forward wall.

Two of them, however, are Walt Meincke (215) and Dick Parsons (225), starting tackles. They'll be the backbone of a line which will pave the way for Al Richmond, Al Kovach, Fred Gross, Charles Lull, George Theiss, Bob Scheu and Charles Wentz. Soph Boyd Taylor may crash the starting lineup at fullback.

LAST YEAR'S GAME: Rutgers 44, Lehigh 13

After six consecutive losses, Rutgers gained revenge over Lehigh on a rain-soaked gridiron, with Austin scoring three times, Simms twice and Pencek once. Austin threw to Simms at 2:04 of the first period to get the rout underway. It was a 42-yard play. Before the quarter ended, the same pair collaborated on a six-yard play.

Lehigh's Scheu made it 14-6 on a 26-yard run, but Austin scored from the two and then the three before the half ended for a 28-7 lead. The only third quarter score was a 22-yard Austin run. Pencek scored from the 14 to start the fourth period. Just before the final gun, Theiss carried over for Lehigh from the two.

DELAWARE PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 20; Lettermen Graduated: 8

The power-packed winged-T of Dave Nelson is once again expected to provide opponents a major problem, especially in view of the return of a complete backfield unit—Jack Turner, Tony Suravitch, John Bowman and Gampy Pelligrini. There's a sophomore quarterback, Gary Hebert, pushing Pelligrini.

End Dick Broadbent, center Mark Hurm and guard Otto Fad are among the solid citizens in the line. Delaware is expected to be strong on the ground again and a strong contender, along with Lafayette, Lehigh and Rutgers, for the Middle Atlantic title.

LAST YEAR'S GAME: Rutgers 37, Delaware 20

Delaware put on a courageous third-quarter rally, narrowing Rutgers 29-6 halftime lead to 29-20, but Crosby's pass interception early in the fourth quarter set up the Scarlet's last touchdown which put the game out of reach.

Delaware took a 6-0 lead on Turner's 29-yard run at 2:50 of the first quarter, but Rutgers offense then scored four consecutive times. Austin dented the end zone first, from one yard out. His pass to Byrd for two points gave Rutgers the lead for good. He passed to Byrd for the second touchdown. Webster threw a nine-yard reverse pass to Simms for the third TD and threw back to Pencek for 15 yards for the fourth score. Two Breyer to Broadbent aeriels brought Delaware back into contention before Tully scored the clincher at 3:33 of the fourth period.

LAFAYETTE PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 18; Lettermen Lost, 8

Jim McConlogue posted a 5-3-1 record in his first season at Lafayette last year—a noble accomplishment. With most of his players returning, Lafayette ought to be tough for all comers this fall.

Standout returnee is fullback Don Nikles, a pile-driving fullback who is equally able as a linebacker. McConlogue is high on at least five sophomores and is enthusiastic about the Leopards chances to post another winning record.

LAST YEAR'S GAME: Rutgers 18, Lafayette 0

Although Austin suffered a broken hand and played only one quarter and Lafayette played inspired ball, Rutgers continued unbeaten and won the Middle Atlantic and Middle Three titles with this victory. Webster passed 27 yards to Naso for a 6-0 halftime lead.

Wermuth picked up a fumble in mid-air and ran 78 yards for a 12-0 lead in the third period. Webster carried from three yards out off tackle for the third score. The punting of Lafayette's Wooten, who averaged 47.4 yards on seven kicks, was a key factor in the Leopards sterling play.

VILLANOVA PROSPECTS

Lettermen Returning: 19; Lettermen Lost: 14

More candidates, more lettermen, more regulars, more experienced reserves and more good sophomores will be available to Frank Reagan next fall, making 1959 loom as perhaps the Wildcats best under the former Penn star's tutelage.

The Wildcats are extra strong at guard and fullback, well-staffed at tackle, center and halfback, but need help at ends and in the vital quarterback slot. Fullback Bill Paczkoskie is expected to be the big gun on offense.

LAST GAME: (1933) Villanova 18, Rutgers 13

Villanova dominated the first three periods of the 1933 game, scoring once in each, but Rutgers rallied in the final quarter to make the game close. With Lou Hermerda, its leading scorer injured Rutgers offense didn't move until midway in the fourth quarter. Then an Army Truex to Walt Winika pass set up a Truex end run for the score.

On the ensuing kickoff, Villanova fumbled and Truex score again after a 19-yard pass play had put the ball on the Villanova nine. Villanova's top ball carrier was Whitey Randour, who did most of the work on two long scoring drives. Rutgers was coached by J. Wilder Tasker.

COLUMBIA PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 18; Lettermen Lost: 10

Sophomores are being counted on heavily by Coach Buff Donelli for 1959. Although 18 veterans return from the 1958 squad, it will be up to the newcomers to determine how much the Lions can improve. In Donelli's own words, "Look for improvement this fall with Columbia to have a strong team in 1960."

Quarterback is wide open, with three sophs to battle senior Fred Johnson. Columbia gets help from the sophomore class in the backfield and at end where it is most needed. Inexperience is expected to be the biggest handicap.

LAST YEAR'S GAME: Rutgers 61, Columbia 0

Columbia held Rutgers scoreless in the first quarter, then the roof fell in. With Austin closing out his varsity career, the Scarlet tallied 32 points in the second quarter, 22 by Austin, one six-pointer coming on a 52-yard pass interception. Austin ran 64 yards from scrimmage at 4:06 of the third period to continue the onslaught. He scored again three minutes later and Wolff passed 31 yards to Hunton for a 53-0 lead.

McGoey ran 41 yards for Rutgers final score in the fourth period. Austin scored 34 points during the afternoon, giving him 106 for the season. Columbia had only 6 first downs to Rutgers 19. Austin scored four of the 11 times he ran from scrimmage.

Hall of Fame to Honor No. 1 Team

Commencing this fall, the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame, scheduled for construction on the Rutgers University campus, will present a silver bowl to the country's best college football team.

The award, called the MacArthur Bowl, in honor of General of the Army Douglas MacArthur, will take the form of a football stadium. General MacArthur is chairman of the Foundation's National Advisory Board.

A plaque signifying the award will be retained permanently by the college that wins and the college's name will be inscribed on the bowl.

The Foundation has been making great strides during the past year in organizing the entire country. In May, District I, encompassing Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut was organized at a meeting in Boston. Late in June, District 4, with headquarters in Chicago, also was organized. Attention will be given to other districts as the year progresses.

The second annual Awards Dinner of the Foundation has been scheduled for Dec. 1 in New York's Waldorf-Astoria Hotel. Chief item of business at the dinner will be the awarding of the Football Foundation Gold Medal for outstanding service to football. Last year, President Eisenhower was presented the award at the dinner held in the Hotel Astor attended by more than 2,000 people.

Also scheduled for the dinner will be the induction of the 1959 additions to the Football Hall of Fame.
